PUBLIC NOTICE

Take Notice that my client VINCENT BORUN BISWAS, son of Uptal Gandra Biswas, residing at 118E/1B, Anandali Path Road, Entally, Kolkata-700014 is the owner of a residential flat on the Second Floor, North East corner, measuring about 630 sq. ft. super built up area more or less at Premises No. B/120/A/H/1 Anandali Path Road, Police Station - Entally, Kolkata-700014 which he purchased by way of a Registered Deed of Conveyance and the same was registered on 06/12/2004 at the Office of the DSR-III, South 24 Parganas, being No.06405 for the year 2006 from Smt. Milu Ghoshal, wife of Chandan Kumar Ghoshal. In connection with the aforesaid property another original registered Deed of Conveyance being No. 04459 for the year 2003 in the name of Milu Ghoshal which was also in the custody of my client VINCENT BORUN BISWAS. But subsequently it was found that both the original Deed being No.06405 for the year 2006 and being No.04459 for the year 2003 have been lost from the custody of Mr. VINCENT BORUN BISWAS and for which he lodged a General Diary before the Entally Police Station vide G.D Entry No. 2854 dated 31.07.2026. If any person having any knowledge/object/claim in respect of the said original Deed being No.06405 for the year 2006 and being No.04459 for the year 2003 may contact the person below within 15 days from the date of publication of this Notice. Afterwards no claim will be entertained.

West Bengal, highlighted the importance of lowering the cost of doing business. She noted that investors often factor subsidies into their project economics and urged policymakers to restore or rationalise incentive schemes. "Margins have become water-thin. Every component of cost matters," Binani said. She stressed that reducing export-related transaction costs, rationalising convenience fees and addressing high power and water tariffs would significantly improve the competitiveness of businesses, particularly in emerging sectors such as artificial intelligence, deep technology and data centres where energy and water availability are critical. She also argued that the new state government should aggressively promote exports. "The government must create conditions where products manufactured in West Bengal find global markets. Several Bengal offers an unmatched balance between business and lifestyle. Its geography — from the Himalayas to the Bay of Bengal, the Ganges and its diverse districts—is extraordinary. Tourism itself has become a significant economic driver, and that enhances the state's attractiveness for investors and professionals alike," Paul said.

Ashith Kampani, Chairman of Cosmic Mandala 15 Group, drew parallels with Bihar's economic resurgence. "There was a time when Bihar carried the 'BIMARU' tag, but that perception has changed. Bengal's image will also change. The state enjoys tremendous advantages with its coastline, ports and inland river connectivity extending through the Ganges. I have no doubt that substantial industrial development will happen here. It is only a matter of time," he remarked.

The panel broadly agreed that improved infrastructure, strategic geography, a large consumer market and growing entrepreneurial ambition provide West Bengal with a compelling platform for execution, competitive infrastructure costs, export facilitation and sustained engagement with industry will determine whether the state's renewed confidence translates into fresh investment on the ground. If those reforms gather momentum under the new government, West Bengal could well be on the cusp of a new industrial chapter—one

Bengal also presents a major economic opportunity. India's growing renewable energy, electric vehicle, railway modernisation and defence sectors require high-grade castings and speciality steel products. Bengal can position its clusters as suppliers to these sunrise industries rather than remain confined to low-value conventional casting segments," said Sunil Goenka of India Swiss FII Business emphasised on the importance of a vibrant business environment for the State to flourish again as an economic power house. Renowned CS Anil Dubey gave the vote of thanks. Maheshwari International Business Foundation (MIBF), Adya Group & Mamta Sumit Binani Foundation were support partners of the session.
