MBBS, BDS 1st allotment out

FPJ News Service
MUMBAI

The Maharashtra State Common Entrance Test (CET) Cell on Sunday released the first allotment list for admissions to MBBS and BDS degree courses for the academic year 2026-27 under the state quota.

According to the CET Cell, 10,509 students have been allotted seats out of the total 10,646 MBBS and BDS seats available through the centralised admission process.

Of the 8,129 MBBS seats, 8,065 have been allotted in the first round, while 64 seats remain vacant in the Divyang (persons with disabilities) and orphan categories.

For BDS, 2,444 students have been allotted seats against 2,517 available seats. As many as 73 seats remain vacant in the Divyang and orphan categories.

Students who have been allotted a college in the first round are required to report to the respective college in person between August 31 and September 4, up to 5.30pm, to confirm their admission.

COMPLIANCE DEADLINE | MMC says it had observed that some PG students were applying for registration only at the end of course

PG med students get three mnths for permanent regn

Amit Srivastava
MUMBAI

The Maharashtra Medical Council (MMC) has directed all medical colleges in Maharashtra to ensure that postgraduate medical students obtain permanent MMC registration within three months of admission, putting an end to the practice of students seeking registration only towards completion of their courses or before final examinations.

In a circular dated August 27, the MMC said all candidates admitted to postgraduate medical courses in government, corporation, private and deemed medical colleges are required to obtain registration in accordance with the Maharashtra Medical Council Act and rules framed under it.

The MMC said it had observed that some postgraduate students were applying for registration only at the end of their course or immediately before the final examination. This, it said, resulted in avoidable administrative difficulties and delays.

The Maharashtra

ing for registration only at the end of their course or immediately before the final examination. This, it said, resulted in avoidable administrative difficulties and delays.

The council has directed deans to verify and monitor the registration status of every postgraduate candidate and ensure completion of the process within three months of admission. Colleges have also been asked to circulate the directions among postgraduate sections, departments and faculty members for strict compliance.

The Maharashtra

Association of Resident Doctors (MARD) welcomed the clarification. In a statement issued on Sunday, Central MARD said the circular provides clarity to PG residents on the timeline for obtaining permanent registration. It urged all residents to complete the process within the stipulated period to avoid difficulties at the time of completing their postgraduate course.

The directive applies to postgraduate medical candidates across Maharashtra and specifically states that registration should not be deferred until the final examination.

2 held for extorting ₹6 cr from Lodha grp

Poonam Apraj
MUMBAI

The Mumbai Crime Branch's Anti-Extortion Cell has arrested two men for allegedly demanding ₹6 crore from a company developing the One Goa project in Goa. The accused, Siddhesh Jana Tari and Pritesh Salgaonkar, were arrested from Dodamarg and remanded in police custody until September 3.

According to police, Tari and Salgaonkar allegedly threatened to disrupt and stop construction unless the company paid them. They had allegedly already received ₹41 lakh from the company.

The One Goa project is being developed by The House of Abhinandan Lodha Limited. As the company's office is in Lower Parel, its official Shreyas Ramesh Patil approached NM Joshi Marg police station and lodged a complaint on August 27. The investigation was subsequently transferred to the Mumbai Police's Anti-Extortion Cell. According to the complaint, Tari and Salgaonkar had allegedly been creating hurdles in the project since August 2025, threatening to stop construction and stage protests while demanding money from company officials.

The accused allegedly demanded ₹6 crore, with each seeking ₹3 crore. The company allegedly paid ₹34 lakh to Tari and ₹7 lakh to Salgaonkar, totalling ₹41 lakh.

Police said the accused continued demanding money after receiving ₹41 lakh. On August 12, Salgaonkar allegedly contacted a company official through WhatsApp and demanded more money.

During the investigation, the Anti-Extortion Cell learnt that both accused were in Dodamarg. A police team conducted an operation and arrested them. They were produced before a court on Sunday and remanded in police custody until September 3 for further investigation into the alleged extortion case.

8-year-old boy dies in mishap, woman nabbed

Megha Kuchik
MUMBAI

An eight-year-old boy died after an Innova Crysta allegedly hit him while he was crossing a road in Bandra West on Sunday. Bandra police arrested 45-year-old driver, Megha Rawal, a nutritionist. An eyewitness claimed Rawal was speeding and talking on the phone when the accident occurred, but police said the allegation would be independently verified.

The deceased was identified as Ansh Gupta, a Class 3 student and resident of the Kadeshwar area of Bandra West.

According to police, the accident occurred between 2.15pm and 2.30pm on St John Baptist Road. Ansh had gone out to play and was returning home from a garden when he attempted to cross the road.

An auto-rickshaw driver lifted the injured boy, placed him in the vehicle and rushed him to Holy Hospital in Bandra West, where doctors declared him dead around 3.45pm.

Provocative social posts: 2 cases filed

Mumbai: Kalachowki police have registered two separate cases against social media users for allegedly circulating provocative and unverified videos linked to a clash in the Lalbaug-Parel area during an Eid-e-Milad-un-Nabi procession on August 26.

While monitoring social media content, police constable Vikram Chandrakant Khaire found an Instagram video related to the celebrations that could allegedly create communal tension. A case was registered under relevant provisions of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) and the Information Technology Act.

A case has been registered under Section 353(2) of the BNS.

Chaotic Powai growth stirs ire

Devashri Bhujbal
MUMBAI

Around 500 Powai residents hit the streets on Sunday to protest extensive and haphazard commercial development without corresponding infrastructure upgrades, sustainability measures or safeguards against environmental damage and congestion in the Powai-Chandivali corridor.

The silent protest, "Save Powai - Build Infra First, Then Build The Project", was organised by the Powai Action Forum. Protesters carrying placards marched from Haiko, Hiranandani Gardens, to Atal Park.

Residents said they were not against development but wanted responsible, evidence-based urban planning. They estimate new commercial projects will generate over 20,000 additional vehicle trips every day, potentially pushing the Powai-Chandivali corridor towards gridlock.

They demanded a cumulative impact assessment of existing, approved and proposed developments covering traffic, water, sewage, drainage, emergency access and the environment before further large-scale permissions are granted.

"We already have a 30,000-seat Global Capacity Centre (GCC) coming up, while existing commercial and residential developments are also being redeveloped or expanded," said Milan Bhatt, resident of Powai and ALM secretary. He said each project may be permissible individually, but their cumulative impact needs assessment.

Pamela Cheema, chairperson of the Powai ALM, said existing infrastructure was over-stressed and could not support more development. She said projects should instead be located elsewhere in the MMR region, where more land is available.

Meanwhile, BGRE, formerly known as Brookfield Properties, which is developing the GCC, said commercial growth must align with sustainable urban development.

"We respect the concerns raised by residents and will continue to work with the community and all stakeholders to address them constructively. All development is undertaken with requisite statutory approvals and as per applicable statutory guidelines," a company spokesperson said.
